

THEA 291 Midterm Review

1. Review each of the five kinds of analysis we have studied so far well enough to explain what each does, what practitioner it most benefits and why. (Ball, structural, dynamic, functional, imagistic)
2. Review important terms from Ball's book and the handouts you have received.
3. Review each play we have read so that you could apply some principals of each of the five kinds of analysis to each. So, come prepared with the following information about each play: images, mise en scene, impelling and blocking agents for each, objectives, themes, and some knowledge of structure of each play.